CALL FOR PAPERS

Quodlibet, formerly the CRNLE Reviews Journal, is a freely accessible, fully refereed international e-journal published twice a year by the Department of English, Flinders University, Adelaide, Australia.

The journal aims to publish high-quality academic work produced by scholars associated with tertiary institutions who are conducting research in the areas of

- Postcolonial literatures
- New Literatures in English
- International Writing

It is intended to publish one themed issue and one general issue each year.

SPECIAL ISSUE FOR 2009: ‘Austen Abroad’
Deadline for submissions: 31 January 2009

Nearly 200 years after the publication of Sense and Sensibility, Jane Austen’s worldwide popularity is only increasing. How is the international success of these novels to be explained? Contributions might consider such issues as Austen in translation, Austen’s place in cultures and places outside England, Austen in film, Austen sequels, Austen societies in the post-colonial world, attitudes of international writers to Austen.

Unpublished papers are invited from researchers in both Australian and overseas universities. Postgraduate and Honours students are encouraged to submit papers. Submission guidelines are available at http://fhrc.flinders.edu.au/ejournals/quodlibet/quod_sub.html

Submissions should be sent by email to the Editor at Gillian.dooley@flinders.edu.au
